UNEASY WEEK IS SPENT ON FARMS OF ALABAMA FOR FEAR OF WEATHER

Work Has Continued, However, and Crops Are Well Advanced

HEAVY LOSS SUFFERED FROM HOG CHOLERA

Indications Are That Nitrate Will be Used in Greater Degree

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 9.—Alabama farmers spent an uneasy week because of the cold weather which probably has adversely affected the crops, according to the weekly summary of agricultural conditions in Alabama made public today by F. W. Gist agricultural statistician of the state and federal governments. However, farm work continued and all sections reported great progress in the planting of crops, the season being further advanced this year than last.

Inquiries are being received by the department for information about the purchase of nitrate of soda, which is accepted by Mr. Gist as an indication that the farmers will use it on both grain and cotton and on corn later.

Heavy losses of hogs from cholera have been suffered because of the slackening off of the fight against the disease.

Peonage Charged.

When three farmers of Pike county, Arthur Farmer, James T. Tynor and Charles Madares, were called before the federal court today on an indictment charging peonage, they filed pleas of nolle prosequere and Judge Clayton postponed a final decision until May 31 in order that all evidence and information may be submitted to the court. The government resisted the plea, contending that the men were guilty of a direct violation of the law and not one which would permit the filing of the plea.

It is charged that the three men held a negro in involuntary servitude on their farm near Brundidge.

The federal grand jury completed its work and was discharged Friday afternoon. Sensational reports of the indictment of well known persons on charges of violating and conspiring to violate the anti-narcotics law were circulated following the discharge of the grand jury.

Cooper Appeals.

Grant Cooper, convicted and sentenced to death in Montgomery for the murder of his wife and her sister, appealed to the Supreme court today in an effort to obtain another trial. Cooper had been sentenced to be hanged January 24 but his appeal automatically suspended the sentence until the supreme court had passed upon the case.

Two Stills Taken.

Two stills were found in full operation and three persons were arrested on charges of distilling by state constables in raids in Butler county during the week. The reports were received today by Coney Austin, head constable.

Strange Birds Found.

John H. Wallace, Jr., state commissioner of conservation, believes two strange birds found in Butler and Monroe counties after the storm of two weeks ago were herring gull from the great lakes which were picked up by the wind and brought southward.

One of the birds was found in a field at Oakley Streak, Butler county, and was described to the conservation department by Miss Bessie Stallings, who said it was about the size of a goose, colored like a gray goose, had web feet, short legs, short neck, head like a crow and bill like a crow, but the bill was hooked like a hawk's. It had two cakes of ice on its breast feathers.

Commissioner Wallace informed Miss Stallings the bird evidently was a herring gull from the great lakes and that the ice was either formed while the bird rested upon one of the lakes of the north or from rain water while it was flying at a high altitude.

Ald Unemployed.

Paul Smith, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Birmingham, has informed M. C. Allgood, state commissioner of agriculture,

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO MOTHERS IN SERVICE AT 9TH ST. METHODIST

Flowers are Worn Generally in Twin Cities in Observance of Mothers' Day

Single white flowers, generally roses, and red roses were worn largely yesterday, in the Twin Cities in honor of Mothers and Mothers Day. The white blossoms were for those mothers who have gone away; the red ones for those who still remain.

Mother's day services, with special decorations, special sermons, and special music, marked the church activities yesterday and large congregations attended church, both at the morning and evening services.

At the South Albany Methodist church, the attendance was unusually large at the morning service, when the pastor Rev. J. W. Curl, spoke on Christ's words to John, when He committed His mother to the care of the beloved disciple. Those words were: "Son, behold thy Mother." Said Rev. Curl in part:

"The queen of the home is a godly mother and she should be recognized and honored as such. Yes, these are the ones that are going to help save our country. The boy or the girl who will not respect and obey such a mother is an ingrate. It is not paint and powder that make a young woman, but a godly character that has been formed in the life.

"My mother knew nothing about the fads of life, and in fact cared nothing about them, but she knew the God of heaven and trusted Him fully. She would often come to me and say I am praying for you. I never did get away from that.

"Let us today as we pay our tribute of respect to the mothers who are gone, become the better for their teaching. And those who are still with us be made the happier for our having resolved to improve our time well and become a joy to our mothers and a blessing to the world.

"Every person should do what Jesus asks in our text. If we did the individual would be the safer and the mother would be the happier. The mother is not filling her rightful place until she is honored by all to whom she ministers. She has toiled and suffered in order to bring us where we are, and make life as comfortable for us as she could. This woman, you call your mother, has had more to do with shaping your life than any other one person. It may be unconscious, nevertheless it is true. If the woman cannot make her influence directly felt around the world, she can mother the man who can.

"When Israel was in need of a leader; it was a mother who gave to the world Moses and so nursed and cared for him that he became the leader and the law giver whom the world has always honored. It was Hannah who through her being a devoted mother to Samuel brought the needed victory. After all it is the stamp of mother upon the child that makes the life worth while.

"A mother's influence is beyond estimate. Such men as Lincoln, Edison, Moody, and many others owed their success to their mothers. Her prayers have kept many a boy out of hell. Such a one is coming into her own and is being recognized as the great force behind the man that has made him a leading factor in the world.

"It is not every homekeeper today who is the mother that our American homes so much need. God give us old fashioned mothers, and when I say old fashioned, I do not mean back to the time when ignorance had sway, but to the time when the child had a large place in the mother heart—both mental and spiritual. Those who take pride in giving to the world young men and young women with such characters as to make their lives worth while! Think God, we have many of them who feel that the destiny of the child is largely in her hands. Hats off to the mother who is trying to make the world better through her children. There have been many sermons preached to us through songs that mother sang while she rocked our cradles and knit our stockings. All honor to such women. There comes a kind of choking in our throats as we think of the sacrifices they have made and the hard work they have done to make life possible for us. The mother who knows and practices the presence of God is the one that is safe and can really teach the child at her knees the prayer that we all learned while we were children. Now I lay me down to sleep."

SPENCER WINNER OVER LEGION IN A CLOSE CONTEST

The city league penant race again this morning is badly scrambled as a result of the victory Saturday afternoon of the Spencer Athletic club over the American Legion, 4-2, in a close contest.

Out of the first seven games played in the city league, each of the clubs has won two, and lost two games, the opening day contest being tied by the Legion and Spencer club. The league standing shows each club tied for first and last place. Another unusual feature of the city league race is that the Legion has defeated the Independents in each of their two meetings, the Independents have defeated the Spencer in each of their two meetings and the Spencer has defeated the Legion in each of their two contests.

Saturday's game was witnessed by a fairly large crowd and the fans were treated to a hard fought game. Johnson, on the mound for the Spencer, turned in one of the best twirling cards of the city league season. Both third basemen starred, Neville for the Spencer making a sensational catch of a fly back of third, while Kyle covered a world of territory and made a number of beautiful stabs.

The score:
Spencer 002 010 10—4

that he will make periodical reports to the department of applicants for positions who have had experience in farm work in order that the department may assist in placing the men.

SETTLEMENT OF MARINE STRIKE IS FURTHER AWAY

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The present outlook for settlement of the marine strike is "unfavorable" according to Thomas Haely, who returned here today from New York as head of a committee of marine workers to confer with Secretary of Labor Davis.

The committee of marine workers, which has had under consideration since Friday proposals for settlement made by Secretary Davis and Admiral Benson, of the shipping board, will today offer counter-proposals, it was learned.

According to Healy the men are not ready to accept the proposals laid down last week. Although Healy stated the present outlook for a settlement look unfavorable other leaders expressed hope for a satisfactory compromise.

STRIKE OVER

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Secretary of Labor Davis today announced settlement of the strike of dredgemen which has been on for two weeks. Three thousand dredgemen are returning to their work in Great Lake ports today, the Secretary announced. Settlement was made on the basis of acceptance of a partial reduction of wages by the men.

AMERICA RETURNS TO COUNCIL TABLE AS UPPER SILESIAN WAR IS DISCUSSED

Formal Request Made on Poland to Calm the Silesian Population

AMBASSADOR WALLACE IS WARMLY WELCOMED

M. Cambon Requests American Diplomat to Sit at His Right Hand

(International News Service)

PARIS, May 9.—The council of ambassadors took up the Upper Silesian strife today and made formal request to Poland to use all possible measures to calm the Polish population in Upper-Silesia.

A communication was sent to the inter-allied commission in Upper Silesia, asking it to issue a formal statement to the Polish people, denying that any formal decision has been taken upon the partition of Upper Silesia as a result of the recent plebiscite.

America participated in the meeting of the ambassadorial council, Ambassador Hugh Wallace acting as unofficial observer for the Washington government. After the meeting it was learned that Great Britain had proposed that those parts of Upper Silesia which are preponderantly German and Polish be awarded immediately to Germany and Poland.

France and Italy objected to this procedure and there was no decision.

M. Cambon, of the French diplomatic service, who presided at the meeting, made a brief address welcoming the return of America to the allied deliberations. He invited Ambassador Wallace to sit at his right hand.

STATE OF WAR

(International News Service)

BERLIN, May 9.—A virtual state of war rages in Upper Silesia today with heavy fighting in many places between the Poles on one side and the allied troops and Germans on the other.

About one thousand German military policemen have been sent into the Upper Silesian theatre of hostilities, but the reichswehr have not been ordered to the scene.

There are now between 25,000 and 30,000 allied troops in Upper Silesia but the French are making little, if any, opposition to the advance of the Poles, according to information here.

The Poles have fortified their positions and have established bridge heads. After heavy fighting and severe losses on both sides the Poles captured several strong German positions.

GREAT BRITAIN TO SUPPORT AMERICA ON YAP MANDATE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Great Britain has given informal assurance to the United States that she will support the American contentions with regard to the island of Yap and other mandated territories in which this government has set up claims of equality with other victors in the war with Germany, according to information prevailing today in diplomatic circles.

While the States Department "officially" is still awaiting a British reply to Secretary Hughes' recent note, it is understood that the same informal conferences which resulted in the decision to renew American representation on the allied councils resulted also in an understanding with Great Britain that the American claims over Yap will have the support of our erstwhile allies.

Secretary Hughes dispatched his famous declaration of principles to the four great powers—Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy—on April 2, five weeks ago today. Since that time replies have been received from France and Italy. Japan and Great Britain, so far as is known, have not replied officially.

The French expressed a sympathetic appreciation of the stand of the United States while Italy frankly and openly aligned herself with the United States.

WOODROW WILSON TO BREAK SILENCE SOON ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS IS BELIEF

Former President Expected to Enter Discussion of Foreign Policy

NORMAN H. DAVIS IS A FREQUENT VISITOR

Retired Executive Slowly Improves in Health—Voice Comes Back

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Former President Wilson will shortly break the silence he has maintained since his departure from the White House on March 4, and will enter into the discussion of international affairs.

This is the belief of persons closely connected with the former administration, expressed today and is based upon a close scrutiny of Mr. Wilson's activities since he became a private citizen.

It is known that Mr. Wilson is doing some writing, the nature of which, however, he has not disclosed to even his most intimate friends. It is also known that he is keeping in closest possible touch with the international situation. A frequent visitor to the Wilson residence is Norman H. Davis, former under-Secretary of State and a member of the reparations commission at the Paris peace conference.

The former president is slowly improving in health. People who have talked with him recently say that his voice has returned to its old time vigor and resonance and that he would be perfectly capable of delivering a public address at this time.

There is almost daily appeal for Mr. Wilson to make speeches and lectures but to all these he has turned a deaf ear.

PART OF HYSTERIA LETTERS ARE MADE PUBLIC IN COURT

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 9.—"Fred has come into my life" wrote Mrs. Fifi Potter Stillman to her husband in the alleged famous "hysteria letter," part of which was made public today.

It is the document which James A. Stillman, her multi-millionaire husband, has been battling vainly through his attorneys to introduce as "crushing evidence" in his suit for divorce. The brief line is the only reference to Fred K. Beauvais, half-breed Indian guide, whom Stillman accuses of being the father of young Baby Guy Stillman. The rest of what became known of the letter today is the frantic effusion of a woman heart-broken, lonely and despondent over lack of attention from her husband and it blames her husband for it.

Here is the full text of that portion of the document which today was made public for the first time.

"I have always been on the square with you. Our differences started when your father made it plain that he did not want you to marry me. You know that we have grown apart from each other.

"That was not my fault. I wanted you to come to me, but you would not do so. You left me up in the country all alone, and it was so cold. I was so lonely and wanted you, but you would not come. I am heart-broken.

"Fred has come into my life. It might have been different had you but shown me the attention I was entitled to and come home when I appealed to you."

There abruptly ends the public part. Whether the rest, said to be more sensational, will ever be made public was still doubtful today.

Prominent Men to Attend Meeting

H. R. Davis and J. W. CLOPTON of this city, Ashley Sowell, of Columbia, Tenn., Geo. Steifelmeier and Harry Parker of Cullman are among those who will attend a meeting on Tuesday at Birmingham on the proposition of the Florida Tourist route.

2 ITALIANS DIE AND 2 OTHERS ARE IN CUSTODY

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La., May 9.—Domineck Digiovanni and Joseph Giglio, who says that he worked in Chicago and Brooklyn and Frank Leone, also Italians, are held by the police suspected of knowing something of the murders. Both deny that they had anything to do with the killings.

Bodies of the two Italians, riddled with bullets, were found in an automobile standing in front of the home of another Italian, Cappello, on the outskirts of the city by police who had arrested Giglio and Leone after they arrived here, supposedly from Independence, La., where Celmas, proprietor of a restaurant, was killed when he surprised several men trying to rob the Bank of Independence.

Every detective in the city is working on the mystery as it is believed to be another Mafia case in which Italians have avenged themselves on the two dead Italians.

SYSTEM CHAIRMAN GOES TO LOUISVILLE FOR A CONFERENCE

Sam E. Roper, Chairman of the Federated Crafts, of the Louisville and Nashville system, has returned from Chicago and tonight will leave for Louisville, where on Tuesday 10, he stated the general chairman of six of the Louisville and Nashville crafts would enter into a conference with the management of the Railroad. He said that he supposed that the matter of the future working agreement between the company and its thousands of employees would be taken up at once although other matters might intervene for a time.

In speaking of the newly confirmed members of the National Wage board Mr. Roper, said that every one was so busy where he had been in Chicago, that he had heard little discussion of them. He said that labor expected a staunch supporter in the person of the new member from the transportation department, although not so large a group of workers was represented by him as was the case when Mr. Forrester of the Clerks, was on the board for labor.

Asked Mr. Roper regarding the re-election of Judge Barton of Tennessee, as chairman of the labor board he said that he supposed that such action followed as a matter of courtsey; Judge Barton, he had been chairman for the last year. In reply to inquiry as to the statement being made in some quarters that Federal Judge Sibley of Atlanta had withdrawn his decision in the A. B. and A. dispute Mr. Roper said: "I recently talked with one of our National Vice-Presidents, and he did not say anything about such action on the part of Judge Sibley."

Mr. Roper arrived from Chicago Saturday night, and will remain with his family at Austinville until he leaves tonight for Louisville.

A-T LEAGUE TO OPEN ON MAY 16

The Alabama-Tennessee league will open its season on May 16, the Albany-Decatur team playing Columbia three games here and then moving to Columbia for three contests the latter half of the week, according to copies of the schedule received here today.

Uniforms for the locals arrived this morning and both sets, home and road, are on display at the Rahm Clothing Company.

The season will be split, 53 games to each half the winners of the two halves playing for the pennant.

BITTER FEELING IN GERMAN DEBATES ON INDEMNITY TO DELAY A DECISION

Acceptance or Rejection of Ultimatum Held Up in Reichstag

EXPERIENCE DIFFICULTY IN NAMING MINISTRY

Herr Mayer-Kaufbeuren May Decline to Assume the Responsibility

By FRANK E. MASON.

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, May 9.—There was little hope that a decision upon the acceptance or rejection of the allied indemnity ultimatum would be reached until tomorrow or perhaps Wednesday when the party leaders in the reichstag caused here this morning. Bitter feeling has been engendered over the reported information from the allies that the ultimatum must be signed by Germany before the allied powers will restore order in Upper Silesia.

Herr Mayer-Kaufbeuren, German ambassador to France, who was summoned here by President Ebert and who has asked to form a new ministry with himself as chancellor and foreign minister, spent all day Sunday conferring with political leaders. It was reported in the press that the ambassador met with such discouragement that he was inclined to reject the offer. He was still in Berlin today. German officials alleged that Great Britain and France have secretly utilized the Polish military coup in Upper Silesia to compel Germany to sign the ultimatum.

An unconfirmed report was current in semi-official circles that the information has been conveyed to Germany that unless she accepted the allied ultimatum, the allies will be unable to do anything to force the Poles out of Upper Silesia.

OFFICERS REPORT BIG STILL TAKEN

Capture of one of the largest stills in the history of Cullman county was reported here today. The still, taken about 4 miles northeast of Cullman, was of the copper variety and is said to have had a capacity of 200 gallons. Five thousand gallons of beer were reported taken along with 86 gallons of moonshine. Four arrests were made and an automobile seized, it was reported.

Included in the raiding party were: Sheriff Lambert and his force, of Cullman; Revenue Agents Huckaba and Howell.

WALKER IS HELD AS PROBE IS ON OF MANY THEFTS

"Son" Walker, a well known negro, today was held by authorities as they continued their probe of recent burglaries in the Twin Cities. Walker was arrested in Birmingham and brought back here. During the week end officers are reported to have found clothing valued at several hundreds of dollars and returned the property to the owners.

Carl Patterson went to Birmingham Sunday and is said to have identified a quantity of clothing there as property of the Patterson Mercantile company, which had been stolen. A quantity of merchandise taken from Speake, Echols and Speake, also is known to have been found, as well as clothing belonging to individuals.

Part of the trousseau of a prominent young woman is said to have been included in the clothing recovered. The property had been stolen from her home recently.

WEEK'S WEATHER.

For the South Atlantic and Gulf States: "Considerable cloudiness is indicated for the week and normal temperatures. Rain about the middle of the week."

THAT SPECIAL SESSION

As the days pass, more settled becomes the conviction of political observers that Governor Kilby will not be given the pledges of members of the legislature that they will bring up only the good road amendment, should they be called into special session to reenact the measure declared unconstitutional by the Supreme court.

As a result of the recent activity of the Alabama Tax Payers League and affiliated agencies, there has been organized in Alabama a compact working opposition to the present tax laws of the state and it is not likely that the agencies opposing the tax program would forego the opportunity to attack the statutes, presented by a special session of the legislature.

On the other hand Governor Kilby appears equally as obdurate. On his shoulders alone rests the authority for calling a special session of the solons and unless he undertakes to use the authority developing upon him, there will be no special session. The executive heretofore has not desired to risk his tax machinery before the attacks of the solons.

So far as The Daily can see, there has been little change in the situation during the past 60 days. The time limit on the government appropriation for good roads is drawing near. Unless we content ourselves with the loss of the government appropriation, something must be done soon. Somebody must give and somebody must take.

PICTURES BY TELEPATHY

The Montgomery Advertiser advises us the sale of ouija boards has fallen off during the past few months. Little wonder when the spiritual art, belief or profession, whichever you choose to call it, has made such rapid strides that the latest thing is pictures by telepathy. Poor ouija shouldn't be expected to hold its own in a development so rapid.

Miss Sidney Dykes, of New York, is the exponent of the telepathic pictures. She doesn't believe altogether in the theory of reincarnation, it appears, but admits that she frequently puts herself in a receptive mood, "feels" a picture, puts it on canvass and then finds that it is the identical reproduction of some scene upon which she has never gazed in reality.

Miss Dykes' own story of the fall of ouija follows:

"Sometimes I have thought," says Miss Dykes, "that I have looked upon certain scenes in another age, another place. But, I do not like to talk of transmigration."

"Yet I do believe in something like a continuity of life. For instance, there is the 'Villa d'Este,' the painting over there with the cypress trees, a little pond, and a villa in the distance. When I made that I had a strong feeling that I must put pinacles on the building, although I thought they would be hardly the thing. Later I met someone who saw the picture and discussed it with me."

"I wanted to call it the 'Villa d'Este,' the painting over there with the cypress trees, a little pond, and a villa in the distance. When I made that I had a strong feeling that I must put pinacles on the building, although I thought they would be hardly the thing. Later I met someone who saw the picture and discussed it with me."

"I wanted to call it the 'Villa d'Este.' We got a book of villas and found that one really called by that very name—a fifteenth century building—had pinacles such as explanation I don't like. The word is used by so many fakers that I must reject it."

TWIN-CITIES TREATED US ROYALLY AND ENTIRE ALABAMA PRESS ENJOYED IT

The hats of the Alabama Press Association members are off to Editor W. R. Shelton and the others of the Albany-Decatur Daily management, the Kiwanis Club of Albany-Decatur, the Albany Chamber of Commerce and all others who contributed to the success of the magnificent entertainment afforded the quill pushers during this annual meeting in the Twin-Cities the past week. It was one time when royal hospitality was overflowing, never so good a time enjoyed by the fellow editors from over the state. Many distinguished guests were also present and all had a good time. The Daily Times can testify and said so open and above board at the largely attended banquet in the Decatur Kiwanis Club Thursday evening that the Twin-Cities are destined to become one of the greatest centers of commercial and industrial activities in the South, really that Greater Huntsville realizes and appreciates that it will have to get up and everlastingly hustle to keep ahead of such competition as that furnished by the Twin-Cities. Yes, it was a joyous good meeting of the Alabama Press Association, one that will result in much good not only to the press of the state but will give north Alabama and the entertaining cities a deserved wealth of advertising.—Huntsville Daily Times.

"If it were not for the 'show' girls that we see on the street on a windy day—we might cuss the wind," says The Tuscaloosa News. Show girls, or girl shows?

DENVER PREACHER TAKES CHARGE OF A NEWSPAPER

A person who will frankly acknowledge his inability to drive a locomotive or perform some other kind of skilled work in which he has never had the slightest experience, thinks he knows all about running a newspaper. The self-appointed critic is familiar to all newspaper workers.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the Rev. W. H. Wray Boyle, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Denver, accepted an invitation to take charge of the Denver Post for one day after he had preached a sermon assailing newspapers and the kind of news they publish.

Big "stories," as they are known to newspaper men, meant nothing to the preacher-editor. Two notorious divorce cases were completely ignored, although even in newspaper circles opinions differ as to the amount of space that should be given to such matter. The sport page carried about boxing, but "Casey at the Bat" was reprinted for the edification of Post readers. The front page was given over to a two-column editorial on "The Ideals of an Editor," interviews with lawyers urging improvements in the jury system, a story about the governor of Colorado vetoing bills for a normal school and five telegraph items. No type larger than 36 point was used and the largest headline was two columns.

Dr. Boyle may be a good preacher, but since he doubtless desires to continue sleek and well fed and provide for those dependent upon him for support, it is just as well that he doesn't have to earn his living as an editor. The kind of newspaper the average preacher would publish, as indicated by Dr. Boyle's one-day supervision of the Post, would not survive long. Sensational journalism is not the highest type of journalism, as all newspaper men know, but a newspaper must publish news, or it cannot exist. When a paper prints the details of the latest murder, it does not advocate crime. Its readers want to know what is going on in the world, good as well as the bad, and it is the function of a newspaper to tell them, as truthfully and accurately as possible.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

THE DISABLED SOLDIERS

A committee appointed by President Harding to study the question of our soldiers disabled during the war divulged the fact that they have been neglected on a large scale. With reference to the insane among them Dr. F. W. Salmon, an expert on mental diseases, said before the committee: "I have studied the care of the insane in many States, but I do not know today any group of 5,000 men suffering from insanity who are so poorly cared for as the ex-soldiers of the United States army. Unless something is done within the present year to improve the conditions under which insane ex-service men are receiving treatment, hundreds who now stand a chance of being cured will be doomed to permanent insanity." Many of these disabled soldiers are found in county poor houses and other places no more attractive. It is a reproach on the government that any one of them should be allowed to suffer beyond what is necessary. It is certainly possible for the government of the United States to take care of these men. The charge is made that the cry of the able-bodied ex-service men for a bonus diverted attention from those really in need. However this may be, the President's committee revealed the fact that hospital facilities are not provided for the sick nor are the maimed among the men being trained for self-support. A strong letter to your Congressman in the interest of these men will help matters.—Alabama Baptist.

There are over thirteen million foreign born in America. During the war there was talk of them uprising against the government. They wisely decided not to snap at the hand that was feeding them.

It is safe to say Prof. Einstein has never explained "Relativity" to his wife; unless perchance he is only an educated fool, and loves to argue.

A linotype operator in The Daily office made a typographical mistake, but was right, at that. In setting a legal advertisement of a machine for sale under the provisions of the Alabama prohibition act, he spelled automobile "otomobile." The owner, no doubt, would be willing to admit the operator was right.

George Kelly, "razzed" by New York fans when he first joined the Giant team, overcame the prejudice against him and now is a hero. That's a pretty good lesson for others of the business and professional world.

"Cost of Living Low in India," says a headline. Let's look at the other side of the question while we are about it and see what the remuneration of production is.

An American woman lost a fortune at Monte Carlo and now is in jail in Paris. She issued a statement scoring women who gamble. That's the trouble with gambling. Too often we do not see its evils until after we are "broke."

Speaking of Heaven and Hell one of our friends remarked that he would live the best he knows how, whether he ever lays up any money or not. "I can't take it with me," he affirmed, "and if I could it might get burned up."

What profiteth is a man if he grow a whale of a lot of cotton and getteth nothing for it. Diversify!

Kentucky now must be known also as the home of champ race horses. Be have Yourself, a native entry, won the derby.

A display of "white lightning" these days often is followed by a severe thunder storm.

Now that hose have been made the most displayed article of feminine attire, fancy designs were to be expected.

The society reporter of a New York paper chronicles that "Mrs. Soandso has, as a house guest, Mrs. Somebody Else."
So those New Yorkers have quite entertaining their company in the garage, eh?

FLIVVER WHEEZE NO. 1234567890.

Sir: A heavy-set man with a perspiring visage was trying, with great enthusiasm and very little success, to squeeze himself under the steering wheel of a widely-known, medium-priced car. The high gloss of the car indicated it was newly purchased and the efforts of the fat person soon began to attract the attention of pedestrians who paused to watch.

The incumbent was about to abandon his effort when an unfeeling spectator remarked, "Serves him right for not trying it on before he bought it."

Prominent Woman Called by Death

The sad intelligence was received here today of the death this morning in Anniston of Mrs. Gussie Orr, mother of S. E. Orr and Mrs. A. D. Cohen, of Albany. The latter were at the bedside of their mothers when the end came.

Mrs. Orr had been ill but a short time. Although death was not entirely unexpected it came as a great shock to her many friends in various sections of the state. Funeral arrangements are being made.

Sermon Preached to the Senior Class

Exceeding the greatest of expectation of his ardent admirers, Dr. Daniel, Professor of Birmingham Southern College delivered the commencement sermon for the Austinville schools yesterday to a tremendously large audience.

His theme, "Faith and Service" was handled in the brilliant and scholarly manner so characteristic of the prominent educator. Throughout the entire discourse the spirit of unselfish service was predominant.

Tonight the first year High school gives "Claim Allowed" a play of unusual merit with a good cast.

Curtis Almon is Magazine Editor

"The Queen" published at Birmingham and edited by Curtis Almon has appeared and is a most creditable publication. It is devoted to "film" subjects, will be issued every month by the Queen Feature Service, Inc., and will tell all about the "reelers" in comic situations, funny comedians, pretty girls, etc., and will no doubt be favorably received. Mr. Almon, the editor, was here yesterday visiting relatives on "Mother's Day," returning to Birmingham this morning.

Effect of Laughter on Health. Most happy is the effect of laughter on the circulation. A good laugh is virtually a series of spasmodic expirations. These forcible chest movements cause a partial closing of the glottis which increases the pressure within the thorax and so impedes the entry of blood from the veins into the heart. This effect is discerned in the turgidity of the head and neck. In the second place the exceptionally deep inspirations tend to expand the lungs with air and to draw off the blood from the veins of the heart.

EDUCATOR SPEAKS IMPRESSIVELY TO LARGE AUDIENCE

Aside from the inspiration of the address of former U. S. Senator W. R. Webb, given, before a large crowd, at the Central Methodist church yesterday, he made some interesting historical references, and gave utterance many wise sayings. The veteran speaker is the founder of the famous Webb School at Belle Buckle Tenn., and when he spoke of the potential ability of human beings, he often referred to old "untrained" students of his.

"It is easy to train the untrained; but a superhuman task to untrain and retrain the mistrained," said Prof. Webb.

W. W. Pinson the author, and who was the originator of the "millions for God," idea, according to Prof. Webb, when first seen by the latter was an "ox driving, poor, wood splitting farmer, who cut cord-wood for a living. He had a good face; but he was ignorant." "Now, we are in the midst of a half billion money campaign for God, following the idea of that ox-driver." E. W. Chappell, now head of the Religious Literature department of the Methodist church, South, was just as poor as was Dr. Pinson, to start with according to the speaker. "I myself have no bank account, except the red ink kind" said the former Senator.

Mother's Influence.
The fact that Sunday was Mother's Day, was referred to. "I am tied to my mother's apron strings as much as I ever was," said the famous octogenarian. "I never knew how to disobey her. I could not disobey her." For genuine sentiment those words spoken in a halting manner by the aged man have rarely been surpassed locally. The effect was electrical and there were many tight throats and dampened eyes on account of it.

In connection with his widowed mother's war time struggles, with her family, and adopted orphans, Senator Webb, paid a tribute to government. He said with no man on the back woods farm on which he was reared he had known every piece of property taken away from his helpless mother. He said that his experience in two wars also, convinced him that "any sort of government was better than no government." He said, outside of church money, tax money should be the most cheerfully paid. "What would you think of a family that put more time on a temporary, tent abode, than on their permanent, winter home? Those who are pining up wealth in this world should be turning their attention to their eternal abode."

Japan and Germany were cited as the result of education. Japan was made almost a first class power in sixty years by knowledge. Germany used to be a place from which sound religious ideas came; but "the barbarous Huns have taken the place of the Germans of Luther's time, as the result of pernicious education."

"A revolution is now in America in education. I do not know where it will end. Specialists, and materialism are taking the place of Christian educators, and fine idealism." President Wilson was referred to as "the first man in ages who had made a real attempt to 'put the man above the dollar.'" A glowing tribute was paid to Mr. Wilson.

"Religion," said the speaker means "stop, look, listen, and get the right attitude." He said John the Baptist, made the great inaugural address for the Savior, and it was the single word: "Repent."

5,000 preachers, missionaries and Christian workers were reported as needed now by the Southern Methodist.

"I think the largest life is teaching young people to be obedient to the laws of God."

"Beggars Lazurus, was striped of all but character. Dives fared sumptuously—his tool box was perfectly furnished, but he accomplished little and was very unideal in his character. He lifted up his eyes in torment; Lazurus lay in the bosom of the friend of God."

The Merry-go-round Story.
One of Senator Webb's best stories was that of himself and one of his little sons. The child seemed never to tire of the merry-go-round rides; "but" said the speaker "if life offered him nothing more than that now, it would be very dull." He said wealth once accumulated gave no satisfaction. He said that money was not of use except when properly invested in human character. He said getting wealth was only "riding a financial pony, that went always in a circle."

"Strength and power, financial and otherwise, was intended to exert kindness with and to help to exercise a large chivalry."

"Life is unselfishness. It is giving up the automobile if necessary. I've got one; I like it, and it would be a cross to give it up. There is happiness except getting something ready for the other fellow, giving him an opportunity. If I were now in the Senate, and should purpose only $5 million for a battle ship, I would be laughed to scorn; but $3 million is all the Centenary movement is asking for in the South.

"I want to see the Denominational Colleges, with as good scientific furniture as the state Universities. If we have Christian teachers in all our Colleges, they will do the rest. I do not worry over what organizations control our schools; it is Christian teachers that we need. The only giving, that is acceptable with God is 'Cheerful giving,' or 'Hilarious giving' to use the Greek words. I know no better that to believe My Savior. Even when He says to love my enemies, I try to think of some way to exercise such love." It was declared that the home, the individual the state, the church, and the school, must all bottom on Christ's teachings or else, all would pass away with the great floods of selfishness and sin."

COTTON MARKET TRADING LIGHT

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 9.—Trading was narrow in the cotton market early today with first prices 3 to 6 points higher. Wall street was a buyer and Liverpool took both old and new crops options moderately.

New Orleans and Southern warehouses sold. After the start the market remained quiet and at the end of the first 15 minutes lost about all of its initial gain.

Amusements

"THE OUTSIDE WOMAN" WITH WANDA HAWLEY IS DELIGHTFUL COMEDY

(Delite Today.)

A fire escape that is decidedly busy with the comings and goings of persons who are most anxious not to meet each other, starts a mirthful ball of fun rolling at the Delite Theatre were "The Outside Woman" the latest Wanda Hawley picture shows today.

"The Outside Woman" is a clever domestic comedy, revolving around a giddy little wife whose love of selling things to the junk man gets her into a peek of trouble involving the jewellers in the apartment above, a jealous wife of Spanish extraction and an artist with a penchant for living models.

ALICE LAKE PLAYS A SOCIAL OUTSIDER

(Princess Today.)

"The Misfit Wife," the new Metro production announced for today at the Princess Theatre, with Alice Lake in the leading role, is an adaptation of the successful stage play, "The Outsider," by Julie Herne.

Miss Lake will be seen as Katie Malloy, a laundress who loses her job through burning a hole in a silk shirt and who sets on a career as a manicurist in the rough town of Paris, Wyo. There she meets Peter Crandall, a New Yorker who has gone West to take up Prohibition in a serious way, but who becomes daily more frivolous about it. Paris, Wyoming, affords little else in the way of diversion.

Peter aids Katie in side-tracking Shad Perkins, the offensive proprietor of the local hotel. And Katie takes Peter in hand. She becomes more interesting to him than drink or cards. When he's thoroughly reformed they are married.

His parents ask him to bring his wife home. It means a strange environment for Katie, the New York house, of footmen, tea-wagons and Harvard accents, but she braves it out. Only Peter's step-mother proves unsympathetic. She resents Katie's "lack of breeding"; tells her she's a "misfit," that she "never really could belong."

"DESPERATE YOUTH."

(Star Today.)

Gladys Walton, in the phenomenal list of screen success which have given her a place among the foremost of the younger emotional stars of the silent drama, has never had a delightful role as that of the heroine in "Desperate Youth," the Universal photodrama to open at the Star Theatre today.

"A Kentucky Cinderella," F. Hopkinson Smith's classic of American literature, is the original story of "Desperate Youth," which was adopted for the screen by Geo. C. Hull and A. P. Younger and filmed under the direction of Harry B. Harris.

Miss Walton appears as Rosemary Merridew, the daughter of a mountain prospector. At her father's death she is sent to Alabama to become a member of the household of her aunt, a Southern aristocrat of unbearable hauteur. Rosemary is treated like a servant and kept in the background—but her beauty shines as a beacon to the richest young fellow in town. He passes up her snobbish cousin to marry her.

NEWS OF HARTSELLE

"The Challenge of a Christian Life" be presented by the Junior class of the M. C. H. S. next Wednesday night. Owing to stage arrangements being better at the public school the play will be given there.

For over an hour the speaker kept his large audience, which taxed the seating capacity of the large church, in rapt attention as he forcibly drew his fine distinction between the life and services of the Great Exemplar, and man made theories.

"Self preservation" said the speaker, "has been the idea that has been too much prevalent among all classes of people, and was declared to be acronous, because the Christian Life is all for service and sacrifice."

The speaker at times was humorous, and then plunging into seriousness, had drove home the fact that he was seeking to impress, indelibly upon the minds of those who were particular to follow the thread of his argument.

Before closing he paid an eloquent tribute to a Morgan County boy who had exhibited the qualities that he had been so earnestly endeavoring to instill into the minds and hearts of the graduating class before him. The young man referred to, was John J. Sparkman, a former pupil of the M. C. H. S., who at the State University had held all the coveted places, and at present was editor-in-chief of the Crimson and White, the school paper.

A local dealer here received an order last week for one million potato plants. The order came from another country and was promptly filled. As fast as the plants are ready there is a demand that takes them readily. Many have their own potato beds, while many depend upon the truck farms of Georgia and Florida to supply them.

The songs rendered by the boy's and girl's chorus of the M. C. H. S. at the Methodist church last Sunday morning was genuinely enjoyed by the large audience. Under the direction of Miss Jones, accompanist they have become quite proficient, and greater honors await them.

The graduating exercises of the M. C. H. S. will be held next Wednesday evening. The address to the class will be delivered by State Superintendent of Education, Hon. John W. Abernethy. Thirty-two compose the graduating class this year, the largest in the history of the school.

The play, "Old Times in Dixie" will be presented by the Junior class of the M. C. H. S. next Wednesday night. Owing to stage arrangements being better at the public school the play will be given there.

Mrs. Conrad Hood, who was operated at the Benovolent Hospital last week, is reported as rapidly recovering.

Many Hartselle citizens attended the Sunday School convention held at Johnson Chapel Sunday.

Rev. J. B. Love and daughters Misses Minnie and Mattie of Falkville attended the commencement sermon here last Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Elliott, of Falkville, were in the audience at the Methodist church last Sunday to hear the commencement sermon.

J. B. Patterson and family, of Lacon, attended church services here Sunday.

Owing to a previous engagement which called him elsewhere, Dr. Geo. Lang could not fill the pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday night as previously reported.

The specific gravity of pure gold is 19.351; that of silver is 10.474.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The "Great White Way" is 30 years old! No wonder some people think it's beginning to settle down a bit. The term and the reality of its whiteness and brightness and its inception in an electric sign on the building that preceded the flatiron structure at Twenty-third street, Fifth avenue and Broadway. It startled the eyes of the natives as well as the out-of-towners with the flashing announcement ha "Manhattan Beach is Swept by Ocean Breezes." Not long after this, a soup manufacturer outbid the Beach people for the space and the sign told the glories of soup. "Fifty-seven varieties" of pickles were the next product to be lauded in electricity and the signs came thick and fast after that. The "flasher" signs in those days were operated by a shift of electricians pulling switches from dusk until midnight. Now motors do the work.

There is considerable enthusiasm over the proposal to change the name of Herald Square to "Roosevelt Square." It would be interesting to have this triangle where Broadway cuts through Sixth avenue once more bear the name of a great American. For before it was Herald Square, it was Greeley Square, and it always seemed too bad to have changed that.

Mrs. Lillian S. Fisher of New York feels quite a distinguished citizen these days. She is the only Caucasian woman ever to have lived on the much disputed Island of Yap.

Somehow I never could think of a lock of hair as being a particularly pleasant thing to cherish if it belonged to some one you never even knew. But here it is, being sold at an art gallery of all places in the world. The lock originally belonged to Dr. Samuel Johnson, and together with an autograph manuscript of a prayer written by him, two signed letters and a miniature on ivory, all mementoes of the great English man of letters, was put on sale the other day and brought $610. I do believe, though, they would have got almost as much if they'd left out the lock of hair.

At last the talking movies are a reality. A few years ago when they first tried them out, they worked pretty badly, like all new things. But Wendell McMahon and Orlando E.

Kellum seem to have perfected the mechanism at last, so that they absolutely synchronize—the words and the pictures. The people move about on the screen and do actually talk. There isn't a jarring whir of the ordinary talking machine and there isn't a pause in between the motion of the lips and the sound supposed to come from them. The achievement is really quite wonderful. They will be introduced in pictures shown in New York's Town Hall this summer.

The days when profiteering could go unprotected have passed—even when the victim is merely one's husband. So, at least, thinks Royal W. Smith. His wife boasted the rent of his room from $4 to $5 a week and he just up and left her. He seemed to have a considerable part of the court-room sympathy, too, when she sued him for separation and he made his explanation.

"Springtime is springtime with emphasis over at Ellis Island. The immigrants being detained there while waiting for admission to this country were for the most part peasants in the old country. They pruned grapevines in Italy, or tilled wheatfields in Russia, or tended the fruit trees in Greece. And spring to them has a call which they cannot refuse. So there on land without a tree or plant, they are finding rapturous delight in getting the soil ready for flowers and planting them, and before long Ellis Island will bloom like a garden. The Red Cross is furnishing the bulbs, and the immigrants look to succeeding immigrants to care for the flowers.

Knox Resolution is Being Held Up

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Action on the Knox resolution, declaring the state of war with Germany at an end, will be delayed by the House until conditions in Europe are more settled, Representative Mondell, Republican leader, stated today after a conference with President Harding. Mondell made it clear that he was stating his own opinion and not instructions given him by the President. He stated that he believed a majority of the members of the House felt that passage of the Knox resolution at this time would add to the complexity of the European situation.

Courtland Will Play Pro Squad

Courtland will meet Albany-Decatur here Tuesday afternoon, Manager McDuff announced this morning. Courtland lost to Sheffield Saturday by a 5 to 4 score and local fans will have an opportunity to get a line on the relative strength of the clubs by their respective showing against the Lawrence county visitors.

Elderly People Need This In Medicine Chest

To relieve chronic constipation, always keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin handy.

NEARLY all people as they advance in age suffer from chronic constipation. Many, however, are indifferent to the laxative they use, on the theory that "they are all alike." That is a great mistake.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, for example, is a mild, gentle liquid laxative, and it does not lose its effect with repeated use. It so trains the bowel muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

A sixty-cent bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last many months. The prescription was written thirty years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, a well-known family doctor, who is himself now in his 82nd year and can appreciate what chronic constipation must mean to elderly people; how it brings on headaches, colds, loss of appetite and sleep, heaviness and a general dull feeling.

Every home that has an elderly man or woman should be provided with a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought at drug stores last year. It is a truly wonderful constipation remedy.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 517 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Every body now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.
